Arranged across a duplex layout, the villa provides clearly defined areas for everyday living, sleeping and outdoor use. Its four-bedroom plan includes one room currently designated as a children’s room. The spacious living room forms the main indoor gathering area, while the separate kitchen offers a practical alternative for buyers who prefer cooking and social spaces to remain distinct.

The property is offered fully furnished, which allows the existing interiors and furniture to be considered as part of the purchase. Two bathrooms/WCs support the four-bedroom configuration and make the layout more practical for a household or visiting guests. A balcony and a large terrace add useful outdoor extensions to the interior, providing separate spaces for sitting, dining or relaxing.

The villa’s private exterior features are among its principal advantages. Residents have their own swimming pool and garden rather than relying only on shared leisure areas.
